

Dear Valued Customer:

This letter is in response to the question of use of “conflict minerals” from the Democratic Republic of Congo and adjoining Countries. These “conflict minerals” include tantalum (Ta), tin (Sn), gold (Au), and tungsten (W). More precisely, the request asks us to certify that none of the materials we supply contain any of these specified minerals originating from these countries.

Tooling Dynamics LLC continues to work closely with our suppliers to determine all smelters used in our supply chain are in compliance with the Dodd-Frank Act.

Tin and gold are necessary to the functionality of many of our products. We have received statements and smelter lists from our suppliers stating that none of the “conflict minerals” are from the Democratic Republic of Congo and adjoining Countries. Tooling Dynamics LLC is committed to having a conflict free supply chain.

Sincerely,

Justin Cutshall
Plant Manager
